Hurricane Force Winds on Campus and Across Northern Utah

Due to the storm and power outages this past Tuesday, we had to postpone our SA Zoom Training on Microsoft Teams – Acting as a Mediator to Staff – A Zen Approach.

Something on Your Mind?

Stay Up-to-Date

Salt Lake City, UT | 84112 US

FORWARD TO A FRIEND

Subscribe

Financial Aid

SA Zoom Training

Microsoft Teams

Approach to Face Coverings and Addressing Concerns

Re-imagining Events in the Era of COVID-19

Advanced Zoom to Engage Students

FORWARD TO A FRIEND

Subscribe

Financial Aid

SA Zoom Training

Microsoft Teams

Approach to Face Coverings and Addressing Concerns

Re-imagining Events in the Era of COVID-19

Advanced Zoom to Engage Students

PDC’s Training Tuesday Series is Now Available On-Demand!

Next Session: September 17th at 1 pm

Weekend of September 18th and 19th – Noah K. Amoo, Ph.D., M.P.H., M.S.P.H.

Up to gain access to the readings.

Debate Topic: Is anti-racism a solution to the longstanding difficulty associated with reconciling the manifestations of racism in educational institutions.

Participants will engage in dialogue and development; and innovative praxis opportunities for Student Affairs that will actively provide leading research and scholarship; tools for personal, professional, and career development; and a direct, critically informed, and personally reflective experience.

provide leading research and scholarship; tools for personal, professional, and career development; and a direct, critically informed, and personally reflective experience.

Participants will engage in dialogue and development; and innovative praxis opportunities for Student Affairs that will actively provide leading research and scholarship; tools for personal, professional, and career development; and a direct, critically informed, and personally reflective experience.

Participants will engage in dialogue and development; and innovative praxis opportunities for Student Affairs that will actively provide leading research and scholarship; tools for personal, professional, and career development; and a direct, critically informed, and personally reflective experience.

Participants will engage in dialogue and development; and innovative praxis opportunities for Student Affairs that will actively provide leading research and scholarship; tools for personal, professional, and career development; and a direct, critically informed, and personally reflective experience.

Participants will engage in dialogue and development; and innovative praxis opportunities for Student Affairs that will actively provide leading research and scholarship; tools for personal, professional, and career development; and a direct, critically informed, and personally reflective experience.

Participants will engage in dialogue and development; and innovative praxis opportunities for Student Affairs that will actively provide leading research and scholarship; tools for personal, professional, and career development; and a direct, critically informed, and personally reflective experience.

Participants will engage in dialogue and development; and innovative praxis opportunities for Student Affairs that will actively provide leading research and scholarship; tools for personal, professional, and career development; and a direct, critically informed, and personally reflective experience.

Participants will engage in dialogue and development; and innovative praxis opportunities for Student Affairs that will actively provide leading research and scholarship; tools for personal, professional, and career development; and a direct, critically informed, and personally reflective experience.

Participants will engage in dialogue and development; and innovative praxis opportunities for Student Affairs that will actively provide leading research and scholarship; tools for personal, professional, and career development; and a direct, critically informed, and personally reflective experience.

Participants will engage in dialogue and development; and innovative praxis opportunities for Student Affairs that will actively provide leading research and scholarship; tools for personal, professional, and career development; and a direct, critically informed, and personally reflective experience.

Participants will engage in dialogue and development; and innovative praxis opportunities for Student Affairs that will actively provide leading research and scholarship; tools for personal, professional, and career development; and a direct, critically informed, and personally reflective experience.

Participants will engage in dialogue and development; and innovative praxis opportunities for Student Affairs that will actively provide leading research and scholarship; tools for personal, professional, and career development; and a direct, critically informed, and personally reflective experience.

Participants will engage in dialogue and development; and innovative praxis opportunities for Student Affairs that will actively provide leading research and scholarship; tools for personal, professional, and career development; and a direct, critically informed, and personally reflective experience.

Participants will engage in dialogue and development; and innovative praxis opportunities for Student Affairs that will actively provide leading research and scholarship; tools for personal, professional, and career development; and a direct, critically informed, and personally reflective experience.

Participants will engage in dialogue and development; and innovative praxis opportunities for Student Affairs that will actively provide leading research and scholarship; tools for personal, professional, and career development; and a direct, critically informed, and personally reflective experience.

Participants will engage in dialogue and development; and innovative praxis opportunities for Student Affairs that will actively provide leading research and scholarship; tools for personal, professional, and career development; and a direct, critically informed, and personally reflective experience.

Participants will engage in dialogue and development; and innovative praxis opportunities for Student Affairs that will actively provide leading research and scholarship; tools for personal, professional, and career development; and a direct, critically informed, and personally reflective experience.

Participants will engage in dialogue and development; and innovative praxis opportunities for Student Affairs that will actively provide leading research and scholarship; tools for personal, professional, and career development; and a direct, critically informed, and personally reflective experience.

Participants will engage in dialogue and development; and innovative praxis opportunities for Student Affairs that will actively provide leading research and scholarship; tools for personal, professional, and career development; and a direct, critically informed, and personally reflective experience.

Participants will engage in dialogue and development; and innovative praxis opportunities for Student Affairs that will actively provide leading research and scholarship; tools for personal, professional, and career development; and a direct, critically informed, and personally reflective experience.

Participants will engage in dialogue and development; and innovative praxis opportunities for Student Affairs that will actively provide leading research and scholarship; tools for personal, professional, and career development; and a direct, critically informed, and personally reflective experience.