Asymptomatic Testing for Staff

Asymptomatic COVID-19 testing is available for all U of U faculty and staff who have NOT been identified as a close contact by a contact tracing team but still have concerns and would like to be tested. This testing is not mandatory but offered as part of the university's efforts to contain and slow the spread of the virus. There are two testing locations on campus: Union Building and the Officers Club in Fort Douglas. Please visit <https://alert.utah.edu/covid-19-testing/> to familiarize yourself with testing options.

Self Report of COVID-19 Testing

Please remember it is very important for each of us to continue to self-report our COVID-19 testing through the University. More information can be found about self-reporting and available testing on the coronavirus.utah.edu website.

- If you are tested for COVID-19 please complete the University of Utah COVID-19 reporting form.
- Keep track of places that you visit on campus and people with whom you interact. Reporting is paramount to campus safety, enabling contact tracing and proper disinfection of the workplace by campus Facilities personnel.
- Report Any Health and Safety Concerns to Environmental Health and Safety.
- Workplace health and safety concerns can be reported through the EHS hazard form. All reports will be treated as confidential and investigated as soon as possible.
- Health and safety guidance cannot anticipate every unique situation. Therefore, individuals on campus must take personal responsibility to be informed and take actions based on common sense and wise judgment that will protect health and support the mission of the university.
