

AASA High School Conference 2011

Brief description of program:

High school juniors and seniors were invited to attend a half day conference with a variety of breakout sessions based on information for the Asian American community.

Who was asked to complete survey:

All participants (~200) were given the survey to complete, however, only 2 were returned.

Administration Type: paper

Summary of Key Findings:

Too few surveys were returned to make any sort of key findings with the exception that both participants indicated in the note section that they enjoyed the day.

Actions Taken:

Based on the low number of returned surveys, we will administer the evaluation differently next year, i.e. collect them before the lunch portion begins.

Which department and/or program goals does this survey align with?

- Educate future undergraduate students about the opportunities available through higher education and at the University of Utah.
