Connecting U Days 2011-2012 – January session evaluations

Brief description of program:
Connecting U Day is an event for prospective students, their parents and family members to visit campus and get an idea of what the University of Utah has to offer. The schedule allows them to learn more about opportunities at the U and meet several college coordinators, resource representatives, club members, and current students. There are a variety of breakout sessions throughout the day as well as lunch in the middle of the day with an information fair. Attendees are able to go on a campus tour as well as tour the residence halls. The goal of Connecting U Day is to get students and family members excited about the opportunity to attend the University of Utah.
